Planning for the Future

You have probably heard the saying: He who fails to plan, plans to fail. There is a lot of truth to that saying. I have seen it happen on many occasions where circumstances force us to make a decision that we were not prepared to make. Of course, there is no way that we can completely prevent this from happening, but that should not deter us from planning for the future. The pandemic that has taken the world by storm over the past two years was one of those things that we could never really plan for. But that doesn't mean we can't learn lessons and prepare for a future crisis.

Here at the office, the months of November and December have been occupied with planning, and it has been very rewarding and positive. God has blessed us beyond what we could have hoped for with our finances. Now we are preparing for the year ahead and making decisions on how we can best use those resources. The Church of God, a Worldwide Association, operates on a calendar year schedule. That means we must complete our annual budget, strategic plan and operation plans in November and have them approved in December. We must have everything in place prior to the first of January.

I am happy to report that the just-completed annual meeting of the Ministerial Board of Directors (MBOD) resulted in an approved budget, strategic plan and operation plans. We now have a plan for 2022. How important is that? I believe it is very important.

Solomon wrote in Proverbs 15:22: "Without counsel, plans go awry, but in the multitude of counselors they are established." Each year the administration prepares its best plan for the next year and then submits it to the MBOD for discussion and approval. During the discussion, things are often changed or added. Once we obtain the counsel from the MBOD and their approval to proceed, we are all confident that we have a plan that will succeed.

Solomon also wrote in Proverbs 21:5: "The plans of the diligent lead surely to plenty, but those of everyone who is hasty, surely to poverty." Each year we spend many hours in the office working on our plans for the next fiscal year and then we discuss those plans with the MBOD. Together we make sure we haven't overlooked anything.

I find it interesting that the apostle Paul felt he should reassure the Corinthians that he planned carefully, even though conditions had made him change his plans: "Therefore, when I was planning this, did I do it lightly? Or the things I plan, do I plan according to the flesh, that with me there should be Yes, Yes, and No, No? But as God is faithful, our word to you was not Yes and No" (2 Corinthians 1:17-18).

We need to plan and then move forward confidently with that plan, knowing that we have invested the time to discuss it and ask God for His involvement and direction. We came out of the recent MBOD meetings very encouraged. I can assure you that we are planning for an exciting year in 2022. You will see what I mean in the weeks ahead, with reports from a variety of sources: In Accord; One Accord; Life, Hope & Truth; Discern magazine; member letters; and church area visits. Be watching for some exciting announcements as we enter a new calendar year.

SHARPENING IRON

A MOUTH WASHED WITH SOAP

Do our words really matter?

By Doug Horchak

Growing up with two older brothers enabled me to get a lot of hand-me-downs! Used blue jeans, shirts and shoes were all passed down the line to me—and that was at a time when having “worn” denims wasn’t a fashion statement!

But one of the other things handed down to me was exposure to foul language. Oh, I’m not saying my brothers used it a lot—but they surely knew a bad word when they heard it. And, if we chose to use any “four-letter words,” we made sure we said them away from where our parents or other adults could hear. We knew that if they heard us using that kind of language, we would face the dreaded threat of getting our mouths washed out with soap!

But times have changed.

Today, profanity is commonplace at school, on the job, in movies, on TV and in music. Some consider it a sign of independence and growing up. Vulgar and profane expressions are so widely accepted and used that we may feel pressured to use this form of language in order to blend in with others.

“As we practice using language that is pleasing to God and to man, it will soon become the natural way we express ourselves.”

The fact is, bad language is used every day to embellish stories, to tell jokes, to express disapproval, to put someone down—as well as to express anger, frustration or pain. With profane language being used so often in our society, it is all too easy to accept it as normal in our everyday discourse. Even if we don’t use profane language ourselves, we may come to accept it because we hear it so often.

To be clear, God does not condone the use of profanity or foul language, and He addresses the subject in His Word.

The apostle Paul refers to the use of profanity in Colossians 3 when describing how a Christian should act. In verse 8 he says, “But now you yourselves are to put off all these: anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy language out of your mouth.”

As members of God’s Church, we must put filthy language out of our mouths—completely remove it from the word choices we make. Foul words should never come out of the mouth of a Christian.

Clean the heart, not the tongue

Had my mother actually followed up on her threat to wash my mouth out with soap, it would not have really solved the problem. God’s Word clearly shows us that the source of foul language is not in the mouth (or tongue!), but in the human heart. It all boils down to what we think about.

Jesus Christ Himself answers the matter. “How can you, being evil, speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. A good man out of the good treasure of his heart brings forth good things, and an evil man out of the evil treasure brings forth evil things” (Matthew 12:34-35).

It is how we think, and what we think about, that is the origin of the foul language and evil words that are eventually spoken.

Paul instructed the Church, “Let no corrupt word proceed out of your mouth, but what is good for necessary edification, that it may impart grace to the hearers” (Ephesians 4:29). In other words, there is never a proper time to use such language, and the words that we do use should be constructive and profitable.

Take action

How can we make the change to using only good and edifying language?

Determine in your mind that you will not conform to society’s standards that promote the use of foul language or cussing. We must make a personal choice not to use any words that God or others would find offensive.

Resolve to use good and meaningful language and edifying words. Once we have determined not to use profanity, we must be committed to using only language that will build up or in some way benefit those who hear us. As we practice using language that is pleasing to God and to man, it will soon become the natural way we express ourselves.

Cussing and vulgar language is all too common in our world and difficult to avoid hearing in our daily routines. However, you can make a personal choice to avoid using foul language in any circumstance. You can also express yourself in a way that builds up and benefits those who are listening. By following God’s instructions, you will be a light to the world—setting an example of not only what a Christian looks like, but what a Christian sounds like as well! ☺☺

Camp Team Meetings

By Ken Treybig

We really missed having our regular camps last summer and were thrilled to again have them in 2021! That excitement was extremely evident as the camp team met again—first in a one-day video conference call in October, followed by in-person meetings at headquarters Nov. 10-11, 2021.

As I write, we have one more camp to run this year—Winter Camp—and applications have exceeded what we were expecting. We are happy to see the continued enthusiasm of our Church youth for the camp program. Many tell us that camp is a highlight of their year. Those of us on the camp team can honestly say it is also a highlight of our year!

We met online for one day in October—mainly to talk about our camps this summer and to do some preliminary planning for next year’s Christian Living theme and to talk about the need to change locations for a few camps for a variety of reasons. It seems God has already answered our prayers in regard to locations. We have a good lead on one facility but still need to see if a contract can be approved and finalized.

We got enough done in our online meeting that we were able to reduce our in-person meetings at headquarters to a day and a half. As always, these sessions were filled with a wide variety of topics, as well as the wonderful opportunity for in-person fellowship with each other and many of the staff in the office.

We talked a lot about the current cultural issues our Church youth face today and how we can help them with these challenges. A lot of discussion surrounded the 2022 Christian Living theme, and we finally settled on “Courage Under Fire.” This ties in well with the modern cultural issues we all face in today’s society.

The camp team is excited about next year’s camps. We plan to post dates and locations on the camp website next month as soon as the contracts are finalized for all locations. @A

Feast Coordinators' Conference

By Mark Winner

Ten U.S. Feast coordinators met in person at headquarters, and two more U.S./Canadian coordinators joined online, for two days of meetings to close the 2021 Feast of Tabernacles and prepare for 2022.

Doug Horchak, Ministerial Services operation manager and a member of the Feast Planning Team, began the meetings with opening comments. Following that, each coordinator shared a short synopsis of the recently ended Feast at his site.

Next up was discussion on Feast and activity planning, followed by Feast budgets and Festival assistance. Other topics covered on the first day were speaking assignments, manpower issues, Feast registration, special music and housing negotiations.

After the meetings on day one, everyone enjoyed a group dinner hosted at the headquarters office.

Day two began and ended with covering many more topics, such as insurance, webcasting, writing Feast-related articles for the Feast website and One Accord, social media, and more. Each coordinator has a deadline (or deadlines) of some sort most every month of the year.

The coordinators all enjoyed meals together each day, as well as fellowship with many of the office staff at various times while in McKinney. As the meetings drew to a close on day two, everyone went home with some “action items” to follow through on.

You can hear about where we will be keeping the Feast in 2022 by watching the In Accord from Thursday, Nov. 18, 2021. @🍷

MINISTER VISITS CONGREGATION AFTER 21 MONTHS

After several unsuccessful attempts due to canceled flights and unpredictable health protocols in this island archipelago of the Philippines, my wife Florlin and I were finally able to visit our congregation in Tacloban on Sabbath, Nov. 20, 2021.

But first, we had to accompany our son Bryce to Baguio to take up a job and settle there. From Baguio, Florlin and I traveled to Manila on Thursday, Nov. 18, for our flight to Tacloban the following day. Almost all of the hotels around the Manila airport are quarantine hotels. Even five-star hotels are being used as quarantine facilities. They won't accept guests unless they have arrived from outside the country or are "in transit"—meaning you have to take a flight the following day.

We booked a hotel, telling them that we were in transit. As soon as they confirmed our booking, they told us that once we checked in, we would not be allowed to go out until our check-out date. We also learned the cafeteria was temporarily closed. So, before we checked in, we bought some provisions.

That evening we received a message from our airline telling us that Tacloban only needed our vaccination cards, with no other requirements. This was a welcome development. The following morning, we checked out early for our flight to Tacloban. At the airport we were thankful to be able to use the priority lane, which is for seniors and business-class passengers. (I really enjoy being a senior citizen in this country!)

Our faithful brethren in Tacloban, 23 of them, were very happy and excited to see us. The Sabbath service was held where they had gathered for the Feast this year. Afterward, we ate lunch together and enjoyed some wonderful extended fellowship.

It didn't end there, however. That evening we were invited to have dinner outside with 15 of our brethren. It was late at night before we bade them farewell, assuring them that we'd be back. Our future visits should be more regular, as many areas in the country have loosened up their protocols.

After one year and nine months, to be exact, we were finally able to travel freely to serve the brethren in this part of the country. We're back home in Bacolod, exhausted but happy that with God's help and blessing, we accomplished much during our trip.

COLUMBIA ENJOYS POST-FEAST POTLUCK

On the Sabbath of Oct. 23, 2021, the Columbia, South Carolina, congregation had its first potluck since 2020.

To say there was an abundance of food to be enjoyed would be an understatement—the only thing that could steal the spotlight was the long-awaited evening of relaxed fellowship.

After sundown, members spent the evening by holding an auction with a fun twist. Members who wanted to participate brought souvenirs from the Feast of Tabernacles sites they attended, and these items were then auctioned off. There were many fun and unusual things: wind chimes, Hawaiian-style shirts, an Alaskan ulu knife, and a carved reindeer horn, to name a few.

Items were presented and taken from table to table by young volunteers, so bidders could have a closer look before bidding began. It was a fast-paced evening—full of laughter that was much needed and enjoyed—and the auction raised over $700 for Foundation Outreach International.

WHYNAUCHTS VISIT ALBERTA, CANADA, CONGREGATIONS

After a very long 20 months, the U.S.-Canadian border opened and Mark and Cheryl Whynaucht were finally able to visit the brethren in Alberta. It was truly a wonderful reunion. They were able to visit most of the brethren, either in their home or in a restaurant for a meal.

Everyone came together for the Sabbath in Red Deer, Alberta. After services, they were able to eat together at the hotel, and later in the evening, Mr. Whynaucht baptized Susan Sutherland, a young lady from the Calgary congregation. After having waited for so long for the borders to open, she invited everyone to stay and share this joyous event with her.

HOUSTON SOUTH HONORS DEACONESS

After services on the 2021 Feast of Trumpets, the Houston South, Texas, congregation held a special ceremony to honor Ella Mae Tyrkalo for 50 years of service as a deaconess in God's Church.

Ella Mae was 29 when she was ordained a deaconess by Guy Engelbart, then pastor of the Denver, Colorado, congregation, on the Feast of Trumpets in 1971. She served as a deaconess in the Denver congregation until 1980, when she moved to Houston.

Along with her many other areas of service, Ella Mae has served by performing special music during these past 50 years.

Ella Mae's journey started when she and her sister, Murleen Hill, met a baptizing tour in August 1960 in Dumas, Texas. They were both baptized by Richard Pinelli and recently celebrated their 61st baptism anniversary.

Ella Mae and her husband, Paul Tyrkalo, currently attend the Houston South congregation.

HICKORY LADIES TAKE FELLOWSHIP TO SHUT-IN

What a perfect opportunity it was to visit with one of our shut-ins. Donna Hensley, a member of the Hickory, North Carolina, congregation, has had some health issues that have prevented her from traveling to Sabbath services for the past year and half. So, on Nov. 10, 2021, we took fellowship to her!

There were 12 of us who met and had lunch at a local pizza parlor. We talked and laughed together for nearly three hours. It was an awe-inspiring afternoon spent with our church sisters.

Martha Roark

FORT WORTH HOLDS CAMPOUT

On Oct. 29 and 30, 2021, the brethren of the Fort Worth, Texas, congregation were able to gather for fellowship and outdoor refreshment at the yearly fall campout held at picturesque Lake Mineral Wells State Park.

The Jose and Carol Rodriguez family coordinated activities and camp reservations. While not all of the participants took advantage of the overnight camping—some choosing nearby glamping accommodations instead—most participated in one or more of the planned events. This included a gathering for hot chocolate on Sabbath evening, Sabbath school for the preteens, a ranger-led nature walk for all, and the traditional chili dinner on Saturday night.

There were 70 attendees for the Sabbath afternoon Bible study, where Rebel Jones expounded on what we can learn by spending time in God’s creation, with encouragement to focus on those things in nature that clearly reveal His fingerprints.

The beautiful, sunny fall days and clear, starlit nights enabled the brethren to fully enjoy conversation, laughter, campfires and surrounding wildlife and scenery. It was a joy to be able to watch the children play and brethren of all ages further bond during much-needed, much-overdue time together!

All came away thankful and strengthened after a wonderful weekend, looking forward to the next opportunity for fellowship.

ASHEVILLE GATHERS FOR PICNIC

On Oct. 23, 2021, around 25 of the Asheville, North Carolina, congregation and a couple of visitors gathered for a picnic in Mills River, North Carolina. Everyone was so excited to be able to have a church function after more than a year. There was a lot of talking, laughing and, of course, eating.

Everyone had a great time!

BELPRE CHILI COOK-OFF FOLLOWS WORK

On Nov. 14, 2021, members from the Athens, Ohio-Parkersburg, West Virginia, and Morgantown, West Virginia, congregations assembled together to help one of the local widows split and organize firewood that had been accumulated for the upcoming winter, as well as tidying up the yard where some of the wood had been resting for over a year.

Afterward, the members went to the meeting hall in Belpre, Ohio, to resume the annual chili cook-off, which had been interrupted by the pandemic in the previous year. A panel of six judges tested nine different chili recipes, and after much sampling, three winners were declared.

The highly exalted first place went to Kayla Hauenstein. The runners-up were Samuel Travers (second place) and Brenda Gaug (third place). After the judging, the brethren enjoyed the chili and various other foods that were brought.

It was a delightful time, with excellent fellowship and some wonderful food!

We encourage members to send announcements to be featured in One Accord. We feature events in members' lives, including baptisms, births, engagements, weddings, significant anniversaries (25, 40, 50, 60, etc.), and obituaries. Typically they run between 50 and 100 words; however, we ask that all submissions stay under 250 words. Please submit a high-resolution color photo along with the written copy to your congregation's reporter.

Baptisms

Susan Sutherland

On Saturday evening, Oct. 23, 2021, Susan Sutherland, of the Calgary, Alberta, congregation, was baptized by the pastor, Mark Whynaucht.

Since the U.S.-Canadian border had been closed for almost 20 months, this was truly a joyous occasion. Susan's family and most of the Calgary and Edmonton brethren were also present to share this very special event.

It was a very exciting experience for those who were in attendance and was followed by hugs and a few tears. It is also encouraging to know that there was rejoicing in heaven. We welcome Susan to the Body of Christ.

Mark Whynaucht

Mina and Ethan Snyder

On Saturday night, Dec. 11, 2021, family and friends gathered at the home of Larry and Shirlene Solomon to witness the baptism of Ethan and Mina Snyder by their pastor, Larry Solomon. Some of Mina's family in New Zealand were able to be a part of the celebration as well through a video call.

Tavi Wheeler

Tavi Wheeler, of the Central New Jersey congregation, was baptized on Thursday, Aug. 12, 2021, in a man-made lake, called Bubbling Springs. Her father, Alan Wheeler, a local elder, assisted the pastor, Kevin Epps, during the ceremony.

Tavi, 22, and her family have spent many years swimming in this lake. So it was appropriate and meaningful to be baptized here. The lake officials were happy to close off a section of it for the baptism.

Also in attendance were Tavi's mother, Robin; her siblings, Hannah and Matthew; and her longtime friend, Kayla Epps. Afterward we enjoyed a meal at a nearby restaurant, another family-favorite place.

Kevin Epps

Bethany Holman

On June 16, 2021, family, campers and staff rejoiced at the baptism of Bethany Holman into the Body of Christ!

Bethany was baptized during preteen Camp Cherokee, a camp she has attended and served at for many years. Bethany decided she would like to be baptized at camp due to the impact it has had on her life and as a positive example to the campers—many of whom had never before witnessed a baptism. The ceremony was performed by the four elders serving at camp this year. It was an encouraging ceremony for all in attendance.

Grady Penney

Grady Penney, a deacon in the Trenton, Georgia, congregation, died of COVID-19 related complications on Oct. 11, 2021. He was a longtime member and pillar in the church area.

Grady was born Jan. 2, 1934, to Albert and Delphia McGuire Penney. (He enjoyed pointing out to others that his birthday was 1/2/34.) As a young boy, Grady contracted rheumatic fever, which left him with a heart problem. Despite the doctors' dire predictions, Grady grew to adulthood, married, had children and grandchildren, and worked to the age of retirement.

In the mid-1960s, Grady and his brother began attending the Church of God, driving about two hours (one way) to Knoxville, Tennessee. Soon their spouses and children began attending too. Grady was baptized on Sept. 15, 1968.

Grady was a passionate, committed servant. He was ordained a deacon April 22, 1978. He willingly served the youth (in sports) and those in need. Even at 87, he arrived at services ready to help set up the hall.

Grady had many talents and enjoyed gardening, fishing, woodworking and other crafts, and history. He had a great sense of humor and loved making others laugh.

Grady was preceded in death by his parents; three brothers, Evan, James and Calvin; and sister, Velma Walker.

Grady was a dedicated family man and will be sorely missed by Charlotte, his loving wife of 64 years, and by his son Dale and daughter Theresa and their families.

Grady is greatly missed by the Trenton congregation. We look forward to the resurrection when we will see him again.
